John S. Peterson

When it comes to litigation, experience often equals results. In his more than 30 years of practice, John S. Peterson has established himself as a preeminent attorney emphasizing trials and related litigation involving complicated real property and business valuation disputes. Peterson Law Group's practice areas include eminent domain, inverse condemnation, forced business relocations, business valuation, loss of goodwill, environmental damages, landslides, subsidence, construction defects, development agreement and land use litigation, and related matters. With offices in Irvine and Los Angeles, Peterson understands the many unique legal challenges facing property and business owners throughout Southern California.

Peterson's reputation as a go-to expert in his field is well deserved; his firm consistently delivers multi-million dollar verdicts and settlements including a recent $28 million eminent domain result, among others. Recently, in an inverse condemnation case, Peterson recovered $2.2 million for a client whose property was damaged more than two miles from the public project that initiated a major debris flow. In another case, a client was awarded $4.65 million for a hillside repair in a lawsuit against a city for a road cut failure that resulted in a landslide.

"We carefully strategize and implement our case theories. Because of our experience and successful results in court, our clients benefit by the reputation we enjoy for fighting hard and fighting smart," Peterson states.

Peterson has been featured in Super Lawyers, Los Angeles Magazine, Forbes Magazine, the Los Angeles Times, the New York Times and has been AV rated by Martindale-Hubbell® for more than 25 years. Peterson is honored to be a member of the American Board of Trial Advocates (ABOTA).

"Our firm emphasizes personalized attention, creative strategies and a results-oriented philosophy," says Peterson. "We aggressively fight for our clients' rights - that's how we achieve exceptional outcomes."
